HOME MATTERS.
Mr. Parker, wife and son, Monday last, on a trip to Niagara.
Mr. J. D. Dismore, of Dundas, is in Stirling on his way to friends.
Mr. Paul Williams, of Toronto, having obtained a situation there.
A circus was advertised to show in this village on Tuesday last, but failed to appear.
Arthur Hatch, of Toronto, late with the Grenadiers in the Northwest, was visiting friends in town, and gave us a visit on Monday last.
It is said that some Silvers farmers, after approaching rain, hailed in considerable grain on Sunday last.
Chas. Briggs & Co. are preparing to receive orders for store coal at lowest rates, and delivered O.K. prompt.

Send your pictures to the News-Advertiser to be framed. A large stock of mouldings to select from, and well assorted.
Some of the farmers have already commenced to thresh their grain. From what we can learn there is little to be disappointed about this year.
Some six or eight self-mulchers have been sold to farmers in this section since the first of harvest, and so far they have given great satisfaction. There will be a greater demand for them another year.

The first quarterly meeting of the present conference year in connection with the Stirling Methodist church will be held next Sunday, Presiding at 10:30 a.m., followed by the Sacrament of the Supper.
Lave Frost. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Warren.

The heavy storm of wind and rain on Monday last did considerable damage to crops, but the grain, having matured, is not so much injured. It is stated that it is nearly all more or less colored. There will be a great demand for them another year.

Marion News.
Mr. Naylor has just completed the burning of a large number of logs in the kiln at the mill. This is an industry which should be, and is highly appreciated by the villagers, especially those engaged in the lumber trade.

The river is now clear of logs, as the last of them were taken over the last week. Owing to the water having fallen so rapidly, the logs were not able to float down the river, and will have to be taken out next year.

Miss Maggie Macdonald, of the mill, has been much improved in health. Miss Emma Macdonald, of Roblin's Mill, is visiting Mr. James Brown's.

Village Council.
Council met on Monday evening last. Members all present. Leave in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Deaths.
Sunday, August 2, the wife of Mr. D. Butler, a daughter.
CATHARINE A. NEW TREATMENT.
Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been attained by the latest treatment for the cure of Catarrh is the cure of Mrs. C. A. New, who has been cured of this disease after many years of suffering. The cure was effected by the use of the latest treatment, and the patient is now perfectly cured.

Gen. Grant's Funeral.

New York, Aug. 9.—The funeral of Gen. Grant yesterday was the most imposing sight ever witnessed in America. This city and Brooklyn were completely in mourning.

It is estimated that the funeral cortege was the longest ever seen in New York. The cortege was composed of the National Guard and all the troops of the Grand Army of the Republic in this vicinity were in line.

The procession and the march of the cortege, all the foreign ministers and the governors and other representatives of every state in the Union, occupied carriage.

The streets along the line of march were impassable for hours and traffic was entirely suspended until the cortege had passed.

The Canadian Pacific.

Mr. G. A. Taylor, contractor, returned yesterday from a trip on the Canadian Pacific railway to Winnipeg. He found the track in better condition than anticipated.

The Canadian Pacific railway is now in the hands of a very fine and well equipped train, in due time and with liberal hands.

"Meeting day for ministers to report away," another day of the ministerial week, and, presto! these same gentlemen, kindly favored with the presence of all the members of the House of Commons, are carried on a special excursion in which they may distribute their wares without any danger to their health, or even to their reputations.

In Scott's Act counties, as everyone is aware, no liquor license can be issued except to the proprietors of public houses, who have practical knowledge and are, therefore, considered, though not more than the proprietors of public houses, as being more reliable than the proprietors of public houses.

While no license, however, in such counties as well as in all others, in the province of Ontario, has been issued since the passing of the Scott's Act, the proprietors of public houses, however, have been carrying on their trade as usual.

THE BOOK OF GOD.

The bible is the best book in the world.—
—on Adams.

There's a book worth all other books
Which were ever printed.—Patrick Henry.

The bible furnishes the only fitting vehicle to express the thoughts that overwhelm us
—on contemplating the stellar universe.—
—M. Mitchell.

The grand old book of God still stands,
And this old earth, the more its leaves are turned over and pondered, the more it will reveal and glorify the great God who wrote it.

Dr. Dana.

Human discoveries seem to be made only for the purpose of confirming more and more strongly the truths contained in the red scriptures.—Sir John Herschel.

My investigation of natural science, I have always found that whenever I can meet anything in the bible on my subjects, always adheres to my platform on which to stand.—Lord Macarty.

How great is my veneration for the bible and the earlier his children begin to read it more confident will be my hopes that they will prove useful citizens, obedient and respectable members of society.—John Q. Adams.

It is impossible to govern the world with a God. He must be worse than an infidel at lack faith, and more than wicked that he not gratifies enough to acknowledge his guilt.—George Washington.

If the God of love is most appropriately worshipped in the temple of religion, the God nature may be equally honored in the temple of science.—Erasmus Darwin.

Impermeable houses are now regarded as indispensable in houses constructed on hygienic principles. The principle is to coat the wood cannot absorb moisture; high places must be made smooth, and the cracks or depressions are given rise to the smallest accumulations of dust are not permissible.

A vegetable leather, said to be fully equal to the animal product, was made in Paris from the percha, sulphur, raw cotton, linseed oil, kolkolite, and sulphate of soda. The first two ingredients are necessary, while the other parts may be replaced by chemicals of similar character. The proportions are ruled with the purpose of making it impenetrable.

An English paper suggests that "if a man wants a carriage or implement photographed so as to make a working copy of the same, all that is necessary is to take a photograph taken, that is clear and distinct from the rest placed on the carriage; this is photographed along with the carriage, and the matter what the size of the photograph is, will, will always be a true scale. It enlarges and diminishes in exactly the same proportion as the carriage.

In certain French steel works a hammer cutting fifteen-inch files uses a hammer weighing seven and seven-tenth pounds and can cut a handle of half-ton in about five minutes, after having struck about 11,000, or 12 blows with the hammer. In cutting angular files about five inches long, and in and somewhat softer than the above, the hammer used weighs two and a half pounds and the helly handle lasts about two years, and has been used in striking 25,440 blows. This is another instance of the fact that, at present, the work is done by the hand, but long-continued, dropping that aid to wear away stones.

It is a correspondent of a mechanical paper who says: "I have had great trouble in getting a small loose pulley that would stand running at a high rate of speed with a very hot load. After trying a large number of different kinds of wood and iron, and several different shapes, including of hobbitts, pear, etc., none of which would stand more than two months, I at last procured an ash handle. I put the flat surface to- gether, and bolted through with four bolts; for boring and turning, I soaked it well in oil and put in place. It has now been running about one year, and is still going as good as new. It requires very little iron ore boulder that had been on exhibition for some time in the Louisiana Department of the Exposition at New Orleans, smelled the other day at a foundry in this city after being broken up. The lump which weighed about 350 lbs., was picked on the surface of the ground in Claiborne Parish in the northwestern section of the State, and in a country that appears to have been upheaved by volcanic action. On being reduced the specimen represented yielded about 50 per cent. of pure metal. Hence, report say, few from this source, as the supply of the ore is practically inexhaustible, Louisiana, it seems, will soon be ranked among the iron producing States.

MARTIN & TURNER STIRLING.

The Fate of Riel.

What is to be the fate of the most perplexing question with which the present government has to deal. If the sentence of the court is carried out, the French Canadian will be highly displeased and may even resort to violence.

The fact of his being a French Canadian, half-breed, and a self-declared enemy of the government, and his execution would be looked upon as a sort of martyrdom.

On the other hand should his sentence not be carried out the people of all parts of the Dominion except Quebec will feel that justice has not been done, and that the lives sacrificed, and the treasure expended in putting down the rebellion, have been thrown away.

Looking at the matter without prejudice we cannot see what plan can be adopted for not hanging Riel. It cannot be said that he has not given evidence against the government, or that the government has not dealt justly with him in any manner.

He had no stake in the country, was not a native, and he was not a member of the government. He had no right to demand that his sentence should be commuted.

We can understand why the French half-breeds who took up arms in rebellion have some special feelings against him, but we have no valid plea for his execution.

It is not to be denied that the sentence of the court should be carried out, and that the law should be executed on him, and he has received his just deserts.

Let the government see that the judgment of the court is carried out, and that the law is not a dead letter.

Let the government see that the judgment of the court is carried out, and that the law is not a dead letter.

A Temperance Convention.

A call for a Temperance Convention has been forwarded by the Officers of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance.

The convention will meet in Toronto on Monday, Sept. 14th, at 2 o'clock, p.m., and will last for three days.

The present state of the temperance movement in this country demands a more earnest consideration. The liquor traffic, in its various forms, is a great evil.

It is not to be denied that the liquor traffic is a great evil, and that it is necessary to take steps to suppress it.

An experiment was made by pulling on the rope with a screw, and passed a satisfactory test. The rope, as usual, is made of 100 lbs. of Royal Arsenal. It has a calibre of 10 inches, weighs only about 70 cwt. In its trial the hawthor took a shill of 360 lbs with a weight of 28 lbs, and attained a velocity of 100 ft per second—a result may be compared with two guns of a similar weight as are present in the service. One of the 10 in. howitzer, which fires a shell of 110 lbs half a mile, and the other a shell of 930 ft and the other is the 10 in. howitzer of 6 calibre, which, with its shell of 100 lbs, manage to reach a velocity of 1300 ft per second.
